Quarantine on Dogs May End on July 1st

Lower Merion's and Narberth's quarantines on dogs may be lifted on July 1 when the State quarantine ends.

The township Board of Health recently decided against lifting it before then, and gave no indication just when it would be lifted, except inferentially.

Narberth's Board of Health this week, however, voted to lift the ban July 1, subject to the discretion of its president, Dr. George A. Sloan. Borough Health Officer George B. Supplee reported seven cases of German measles during the month.

Borough Instructor Stricken on Street

Attack Fatal to Sara E. Hoak
as She Steps From Auto of Friends

TAUGHT HERE 16 YEARS

On the eve of the last day of school of her sixteen year as a Narberth teacher, Miss Sara E. Hoak, 60, died suddenly of a cerebral hemorrhage Monday night as she stepped from an automobile containing five other teachers on their return from a social evening spent in Philadelphia.

Miss Hoak slumped to the sidewalk as she got out of the car in front of the residence of Miss Mary L. Hoover, on Dudley avenue. Miss Hoak and Miss Hoover became members of the Narberth School faculty at the same time and jointly held the record of being the oldest teachers in point of service.

Miss Frances Fricke, music teacher, who was driving the machine, summoned Dr. C. Romaine Hoffman, of Forest avenue, who pronounced Miss Hoak dead.

A teacher in the fourth grade, and also mathematics instructor in the fifth grade, Miss Hoak had planned to attend the closing day exercises Tuesday. During the school year she lived at the Baird Apartments.

This Thursday evening friends were to call at Frankfield's Funeral Home in Ardmore, from 7 to 9, with funeral services at 2 P. M. this Saturday in Lancaster, Miss Hoak's home, where she will be buried.

She is survived by Mrs. Florence Byrd, a sister, and Charles H. Hoak, a brother, both of Lancaster.

"Fourth" Citizens' Committee Will Meet Monday Evening

A meeting of the Citizens' Committee which is being organized to conduct Narberth's Fourth of July celebration will be held at the American Legion Rooms on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock sharp.

J. J. Cabrey, appointed chairman, by Burgess John R. Hall, stated that membership in the committee is open to residents who can take a part in the preparation of the impressive program, and he expressed the hope that newcomers to the borough will avail themselves of the opportunity to become active in community affairs.

It is further announced that the meeting will adjourn promptly at 8:30 P. M. to permit of those present observing other appointments on the same evening.

Narberth Playground Opens Season Monday

Daily Schedule 9.30 A. M. to 8.30 P. M.; Saturdays
Until Noon

PLAN MANY ACTIVITIES

Narberth playground will pry the lid off its summer activities at 9.30 Monday morning. The playground will remain open until August, when the season will be climaxed by an elaborate Sports' Day. The playground is open daily from 9.30 in the morning until 8.30 in the evening and on Saturdays until noon.

A well-rounded program has been arranged by the supervisors of the playground. There will be varied handicrafts taught the boys and girls both young and old. Games of every type and description will be played by those who attend. A new project to be attempted will be the erection of a miniature golf course. The course will be built solely by the ingenuity of the boys and girls. The sale of milk which had its successful inauguration last year, with the purchase of over five hundred bottles, will be continued this year. Arrangements are now in progress for permission from the Milk Control Board, to sell milk on the playground.

This year three supervisors will have charge of the program. Miss Josephine Landis, Ardmore, who is a physical instructor at Drexel Institute, will have charge of the women's program. Paul King, physical director at Franklin and Marshall Academy this coming year, has charge of the men's program. Assisting Mr. King will be Isaac B. Knoll, teacher at Narberth Public School, and a widely known figure in scout circles.

Special features will include inter-playground matches in tennis, baseball, soft ball, volleyball, and paddle tennis. Dog shows, pet shows, doll shows, treasure hunts and boat races will be held. Life-saving, swimming and diving will be taught at the Llanerch pool. Last year some thirty boys and girls took part in this work. This activity is made possible by the purchase of a large number of tickets from the pool management.

Everyone is invited to participate in the recreational activities at the Narberth playground.

Give College Dance

The committee in charge of the Hood College Dance at the Merion Tribute House Saturday evening was Miss Carroll Fuller, Mrs. William Fry, Miss Grace Lykens, Miss Amy Hall and Miss Dorothy Doyle.

Eastern Main Line veterans proceeded to make their dreams come true, or, in some cases, to make their credit good by paying old debts, this week by cashing through certification $150,000 of their bonus bonds received Monday. Certification of $113,000 in bonds and cashing of odd-payment checks had been made by Wednesday noon. The figure is about half of the total received.

In Narberth, Postmaster Joseph L. Kelley highly commended his staff on its 100 per cent delivery of bonds and its smooth certification for veterans Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights. He reported 190 registered packets received, with 99 veterans having had $46,300 in bonds certified for the issuance of government checks.

The use of the Durbin & Howard offices at Station Circle was very helpful in facilitating certifications, Mr. Kelley said.

Odd-payment checks (under $50) were cashed at the Narberth National Bank to the number of 87 amounting to $1600.53 up to the close of business Tuesday afternoon, according to Carl B. Metzger, Jr., cashier.

Mrs. Mary K. Roach, Bala-Cynwyd postmistress, said there was a rush of veterans to have their bonds certified Monday night, but only four came to the post office Tuesday night. Bala-Cynwyd carriers delivered 150 packets. Seventy-five former service men have had $30,000 of their bonds certified.

In Merion 115 packets were delivered and 45 veterans have had $33,000 of their bonds certified for payment, according to Mrs. Katherine Sherlock, acting postmaster.

Bigger and Better Fourth is Predicted

Spectator Optimistic on Celebration as Narberth Opens Heart and Purse

HONOR ROLL NEXT WEEK

By THE SPECTATOR

On Monday of this week the formal call was made through the mails for all the borough's best to come along with their dollars for the Fireworks' Fund and already the response is such as to warrant the expectation that our show this year will be of more ample proportions than ever before.

Particularly refreshing is the fact that donations are more than generous from those who are not apt to be at home on the holiday, but who want it understood that they do not regard that as a decourous reason for failing to contribute to an affair which is entitled to general community cooperation, a posture of mind which can be described as altogether elegant, affording, as it does, an excellent explanation for the success which invariably accompanies Narberth's activities.

The substantial estate into which our annual celebration has come reflects, first of all, an aggressive neighborhood spirit which insists that ways and means must always be devised to assure the things which ought to be in a place so history-laden as is the case in this section.

Elsewhere in the land, there may not be any quickly traceable link between the beginnings of the nation and these our times, but in this erstwhile Welsh settlement, where we now abide the record brims with noteworthy achievements and valorous deeds for hundreds of years and dull and stodgy we all would be if special anniversaries stirred no concern amongst us nor induced no formal recognition of the stellar triumph which was begotten by the birth of America as a free nation.

Observing on these things of long ago, the question has been asked as to why some street-signs are seen on Montgomery avenue describing it as the "Old Lancaster Road." The explanation is that before the present Lancaster pike came to be, the trail to the country of the Dutch was over the Conestoga road, or King's highway, which traversed part of our Montgomery avenue, long before the Revolution, and the present road came to pass as the result of a private enterprise, the tolls continuing until about 15 years ago. Incidentally, the present Lancaster road was the first stone turnpike in America and its completion effected a saving of seven miles over the Conestoga route, which apparently was quite an item to reckon with when horse-power meant what it actually implied, and not the mere

Rotary Hear of G-Men

Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotarians Tuesday heard Albert Schroeder reveal the mysteries surrounding the G-Men of the F. B. I. in a talk at the Overbrook Golf Club. Mr. Schroeder is assistant to Ralph Vetterli, chief of the Philadelphia office, who was unable to speak as scheduled. Guy Croyle was chairman. The Rotary International convention will be held next week in Atlantic City.

Narberth-Bala-Cynwyd-Merion Vets Cash $150,000 of Bonus First Week

Eastern Main Line veterans proceeded to make their dreams come true, or, in some cases, to make their credit good by paying old debts, this week by cashing through certification $150,000 of their bonus bonds received Monday. after a lingering illness. He was

Col. Isadore A. Miller Dies of Long Illness

Pennsylvania Railroad Official
Honored for Transport
Work in War

DECORATED BY FRANCE

High officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the U. S. Army and the Masonic Lodge paid final tribute to Colonel Isadore A. Miller Tuesday afternoon at his funeral services at 1820 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, in charge of the Rev. A. C. Kanzinger, chaplain of Cassia Lodge, F. and A. M., of which Colonel Miller was a past master.

Colonel Miller, who lived at Merion and Essex avenues, Narberth, died last Saturday morning in Jefferson Hospital following a long illness. Recently he returned from Florida, where he had sought to regain his health. He was 53.

He was supervisor of operating expenditures of the Pennsylvania Railroad System and formerly was president of the Narberth School Board. Colonel Miller was born in Mt. Wolf, York County, October 16, 1882. He began work for the Pennsylvania Railroad on April 2, 1900, in the office of the track supervisor at York. He was moved to the division headquarters in Baltimore the following year as a clerk in the office of the division engineer.

On July 1, 1908, he was transferred to the general superintendent's office in Williamsport, and on January 24, 1910, he was assigned to special duty on the staff of the general manager in Philadelphia, where, on May 15, 1916, he was appointed chief accountant in the operating department.

On November 1, 1917, Colonel Miller was furloughed for military service and served overseas for 17 months as assistant business manager and business manager of the Transportation Corps, A. E. F., in the handling of American troops, materials and supplies over French railways. He was successively appointed major and lieutenant colonel in the Transportation Corps, and was honorably discharged from military service on March 5, 1919.

For his service overseas, Colonel Miller received from the French Government the decoration of Chevalier in the French Legion of Honor.

He re-entered the railroad service on March 6, 1919, as chief accountant to the Federal manager, Pennsylvania Railroad Eastern Lines. When the period of Federal control of railroads was terminated on March 1, 1920, he was appointed regional accountant of the Pennsylvania Railroad's eastern region at Philadelphia, and on January 1, 1925, was promoted to the position of supervisor of operating expenditures on the staff of the vice-president in charge of operation.

Colonel Miller is survived by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. T. Barr Stevenson, of Narberth.

Bids are being asked by the Borough of Narberth for repairs to curbs and sidewalks on 35 properties.

Work on the county-aid street improvement projects on Conway avenue and Essex avenue started this week.

Summer School Opens in Narberth July 6th

Fuel Contract Awarded to Narberth Coal Company; Exonerations Granted

MARION MILLER TO WED

Narberth's summer school will open July 6 and continue mornings, 8.30 to 12.30, six days a week until August 8, it was announced at the June meeting of the Borough School Board by W. J. Drennen, supervising principal. Of the ten instructors obtained, seven are from the University of Pennsylvania.

A coal contract, up to 70 tons for each building, was awarded to the Narberth Coal Company as low bidder.

The school census will be taken by W. D. R. Evans.

Exonerations totalling only $867 for the 1933, 1934 and 1935 tax duplicates were granted to Edwin P. Dold, school tax collector.

The board accepted the resignation of Miss Marion D. Miller, fourth and fifth grade teacher, who will be married to Carlton Harkness, history and civics instructor at the school, June 27.

Bids for bus transportation for the next school year are to be advertised.

Democratic Bolt Quite Serious, Says M'Elwee

Independents' Leader Not Offered Appointment, He Says, and Wouldn't Take It

BRADLEY COUNTY HEAD

"We are very much in earnest and our intentions are quite serious," Joseph F. McElwee, of Merion, told this newspaper when asked about the new "Independent Democratic Committee," of which he is chairman. The independents are 102 Montgomery County committeemen, who bolted the party's reorganization meeting at Norristown Monday when Frank J. Bradley, Norristown attorney, was elected Democratic chairman over McElwee by a 246 to 102 vote.

Other officers elected were Mrs. E. Wilson Waring, Rosemont, and Wellington R. Rosenberry, Jr., Norristown attorney, as vice-chairmen; Gilbert S. Jones, superintendent of Valley Forge Park, and Miss Mary Marr, Norristown, secretaries. Members of the Democratic executive committee include from this section, Thomas H. Lineaweaver, Haverford, chairman; John T. Durnin, Penn Wynne; Mrs. Waring, and Mrs. Mary K. Roach, Bala-Cynwyd postmistress.

Asked if he was offered an appointment to the executive committee as reported in a Philadelphia newspaper, Mr. McElwee replied, "No, and I would never accept such an appointment if it were to be offered to me then or now."

Bradley's election is held to be both a victory over, and a compromise with, the Lineaweaver New Deal forces, and also with Charles D. McAvoy, U. S. Attorney, having skillfully maneuvered himself back into unquestioned leadership of Montgomery Democrats, both old and new, excepting the independents.

Bar Convention Next Week

The forty-second annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Bar Association will be held at Bedford Springs on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week. Desmond J. McTigue, Narberth attorney, is a member of the Committee of Taxation which will recommend the establishment of a permanent Tax Commission in the State to be entrusted with the collecting of taxes, and with its tax collectors to be under civil service.

Garage Permit Granted

Permission to erect a two-car garage on his premises at 116 Dudley avenue has been granted to L. C. Piercy by the Narberth Board of Adjustment.

Awarded Beaver Degree

Miss Harriet Marsh, of Narberth, was awarded a bachelor of science degree last week at the Beaver College commencement at Jenkintown.

"Levering House" Opened by Mecke

Model Home in Cynwyd Embodies Latest Decoration Features

"Levering House" at 28 Levering Mill road, Cynwyd, was opened to the public last Sunday by J. Howard Mecke, Jr., builder and owner.

This new model home embodies the latest color scheme in interior decoration, the result of weeks of research for a new color motif that would carry a keynote of simplicity.

Embodying the latest color scheme in interior decoration, "Levering House," at 28 Levering Mill road, Cynwyd, will be opened tomorrow for public inspection by J. Howard Mecke, Jr., builder and owner.

After weeks of research for a new color motif that would carry a keynote of simplicity, Mr. Mecke found experts agreeing upon grey as the decorative shade of the day. And so the upstairs of the "Levering House" is papered with various bright, cheerful grey papers, all of them imported and all striking a new note in home decorating with their accompanying striking drapes accenting the quiet charm of the walls and ceilings.

Bright colors, in subdued shades, are used in the chintzes that form the lining of the closets of the home.

One of the striking features of this new house is the basement game room designed in the form of a ship's deck. A concealed electric fan and port-holes have been used to add to the effect of a liner at sea.

A new note has been struck in the closet of the master bedroom with built-in shoe racks, the holder, suit and gown hangers of shining metal, instead of wood, as tried elsewhere.

The living room is large, with a great fireplace that covers most of the length of the room. Recessed radiators assure maximum beauty to the rooms, while the bright, white kitchen and the dining room with its many large bay windows are two rooms that every woman will love.

Every effort has been made to strike a new note in the furnishing of the house, while at the same time retaining the spirit of simplicity.

"Levering House," English in design, is of all-stone construction, using oak flooring throughout. It has metal insulation and metal weather-stripping, custom-made screens of copper bronze wire, and copper pipes. There is a heated garage, with an entrance direct into the house.

"A Message to Garcia" at Narberth, Followed by "Moon's Our Home"

With Wallace Beery in the best role he has had since "Viva Villa," supported by the beautiful Barbara Stanwyck as a Cuban belle and the silver-voiced John Boles, "A Message to Garcia" is now at the Narberth Theatre. While a romance has been added to this historic episode, the producers have been faithful to the facts concerning the famous journey to General Garcia.

Margaret Sullivan and Henry Fonda are teamed in the year's scrappiest comedy, "The Moon's Our Home," coming Monday and Tuesday. This madcap farce of a couple who fought every day and made up every night shows Miss Sullivan doing her best work since "Little Man, What Now?"

Wednesday (Bank Night) brings "Brides Are Like That," with Ross Alexander and Anita Louise, to the Narberth. The cash award is scheduled for 9 P. M.

For the last three days of next week the Narberth will show Ouida's famous classic of the Foreign Legion, "Under Two Flags." Ronald Colman, Claudette Colbert, Victor McLaglen and Rosalind Russell are the featured players in the story of the African desert.

"Small Town Girl" and Shirley Temple on Egyptian Schedule: Daily Matinees 2.15

Ben Ames Williams' story, "Small Town Girl," is at the Egyptian—an entertaining blend of humor, pathos and romance, convincingly directed and acted. Cast includes Janet Gaynor, Robert Taylor, Lewis Stone, Binnie Barnes and Andy Devine.

Also on the program is the color cartoon, "Little Stranger."

"Captain January" will start next week off with happy minutes for Shirley Temple fans. The delightful story of a crusty old New England Light-house keeper (Guy Kibbee) and the little girl found at sea, gives Shirley new opportunity for clever acting, singing and dancing. Cast includes Slim Summerville and June Lang.

Matinees will be given at 2.15 daily, as usual during the summer.

"Big Brown Eyes," Wednesday and (Bank Night) Thursday, is an interesting, well cast, well directed detective yarn, with snappy dialogue and amusing situations. Cast includes Cary Grant (detective) and Joan Bennett (clever young manicurist).

"These Three," the much discussed Lillian Hellman stage play, comes in a revised but equally interesting cinema form to the Egyptian the end of next week. Expertly directed, the tense, dramatic and unusual story is nicely characterized by Merle Oberon, Miriam Hopkins, Joel McCrea and the vindictive little girl, Bonita Granville.

Yes, the Editor welcomes letters—brief, timely and of local interest.

Girl Scout News

Mrs. Guy L. Cornman, of Ardmore, chairman of training and personal of the Main Line District 8 Committee, will act as co-director of the Dove Mill Day Camp with Mrs. Carl Axel Thaysen, of Narberth, as director. Miss Betty Seasholtz, lieutenant in the Narberth troops 8 and 125 and a first-class scout, will take a folk dancing training course at the Philadelphia headquarters. She will assist Miss Katherine Knox, of Stratford, at the day camp which meets during the week of July 13 and July 20. Miss Joan Helms, of Wayne, captain of the Devon troop 26 will assist in sketching and story telling at the day camp. Miss Katharine Follin, of St. Davids, will be an assistant counselor of nature and dramatics. Miss Natalie Beyer, captain of Merion 207 has offered her services for every afternoon the day camp is in session. Mrs. Homer Eachus, captain of Merion 18 and 230, who will be the handicraft counselor will take a handicraft course under Miss Virginia R. Hughes, Philadelphia Local Director, on June 18 and 23, at 7.30 P. M. A nature course under Miss Mabel Willett, Girl Scout leader, will also be offered at 311 S. Juniper street, Philadelphia, on June 16 and 23. The Narberth Community Library has agreed to supply a "suitease library" for the day camp. Books on nature, outdoor life, inspirational reading such as poetry and short stories will be included in this traveling library. Miss Ingeborg Thaysen, assistant librarian and Girl Scout leader of troop 125 in Narberth, will act as camp librarian.

On Monday, June 15, Shirley Vincent, of Narberth, and Elizabeth Cornman, of Ardmore, cleaned the shelter at the day camp site. Mrs. Guy L. Cornman supervised these girls.

Each girl who attends the day camp must bring a parent's permission slip for each day she takes part in the activities. This is one of the many precautions taken to preserve the health of the girls. These blanks may be secured from each girl's captain.

Father's Day is always celebrated the third Sunday in June, which brings it on June 21 this year. Sometimes father's place in Girl Scouting does not seem a prominent one, but he usually approves 100 per cent the constructive Girl Scout program and may be counted upon to aid in its development.

Jiminy Players 26th

The Jiminy Players will present John Lattimore's famous melodrama "The Murder in the Red Barn," with Alice Bashnell Cheyney and Ethel Barrymore Colt, on Friday evening, June 26, at 8.15, on the Friends' Central School grounds, City Line, Overbrook, for the benefit of the Pennsylvania Branch of the Women's International League.

The West Window

By William Edwards Cameron

Sentimental Journey

In West Philadelphia, it is possible to step mentally from 1936 to the middle-eighties—and never leave the sidewalk. If one strolls through Locust, or Spruce, or Pine streets in the forties he comes upon many old homes of stately mien which date from that glamorous era—and even from the years long before that.

Some of them are in the best classic tradition; but most of them are of the General Grant school of architecture—with gray stone walls laid in crazy-quilt pattern, with a square tower in the center; the whole topped by a mansard roof sheathed in blue slate.

Numbers of them, on corners, are surrounded by thick stone walls, with cast-iron guards in scrolled grapevine design—with the black paint peeling from them in curls like shavings. Here and there is a fine wrought-iron gate, the product of a loving craftsmanship seldom encountered today.

Many of those old homes are vacant, with signs on them proclaiming that they are for sale, or for rent. In their front yards the grass is long and unkempt. Over the porch columns ivy, or Virginia creeper is rioting in beautiful disorder, peeping in at the grimy windows and clinging affectionately to the fearful and wonderful jigsawed cornices.

Through veritable thickets of weeds, the beds which edge the old brick walks are brilliant with new-blown peonies, and iris. In the breeze, venerable lilac bushes bow to the passerby. Graveled and twisted box bushes grow bravely to delight an artist's eye—for they are full of "drawing" and the charm of a ripe old age.

Over an old arbor winds a luxuriant wistaria vine, its trunk so thick and strong that it has loosened the heavy frame of the trellis which once supported it and is now supported by the wood which it held to its bosom—a commentary, that, upon the vagaries of life itself.

Rambler roses, pink and white, twine themselves on a brick half-wall; honeysuckle meanders aimlessly over a dignified portico once white and turned now to a dingy cerise. Tender sprigs of the beautiful growth have come through the broken porch floor in a valiant disregard for man and his devices. It is the business of that beautiful thing to grow—and grow it does, in all of its glory of leaf and blossom.

One is overcome by curiosity—and feeling very much like an eavesdropper. He peeks the gate latch and enters. He creeps through a dim pane at the empty old parlor. There is a white marble mantel, all curves and bedight with carvings of quaint concept. At the tops of two consoles, which support the shelf, a pair of Cupid's heads are seen—or perhaps they were intended as cherubs. In the spandrels of the arched opening are decorations of chiselled acanthus leaves, well done.

From a window at the side one views a fine pier-mirror in the style of Louis XIV, true to period and still gallant in its dress of gold leaf. The ceiling is done in ornamental plaster in the fashion which prevailed so long after the Civil War. The mouldings on it leave but few bare places. In the center is a rosette of water leaves from which is suspended a capital prism chandelier. The gas fixtures are still attached to it.

One leaves that old house and strolls on. There on a corner a moving van has been backed up to the curb and three stalwart blackamoors are carrying somebody's goods and chattels into a fine old residence of the Doric order. A little girl climbs up on the levelled tail board, having a great old time, for she is to live in the old house. It nestles in a half acre of green and in the shade of locust trees and mulberries.

There must be a nice garden hidden behind the high wall, where she can romp, in secluded safety, to her heart's content. The gates of this old place are different—for they are of massive wood, built for strength and security. Once closed, no prying eye in the head

Following funeral services Monday at his late home, 417 Sycamore avenue, Merion, conducted by Dr. A. E. Clattenburg, rector of St. John's Church, Cynwyd. Interment was at West Laurel Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Smith is survived by his widow, Mrs. Anna L. Smith, and three sons, Harry, Robert and Jefferson, all of Merion.

Benjamin F. Slaw

Benjamin F. Slaw, 68, Bala-Cynwyd contractor, died June 12 following a week's illness. Funeral services were held Monday with interment in West Laurel Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Slaw, who lived at 81 Academy road, was one of the builders of Lower Merion's original sewer system in 1903, and was consultant for the township until 1924 when he became sewer inspector in the health and drainage department, the position he held at his death.

Formerly he was superintendent of road construction in Montgomery County, an employee of the State Highway Department, and at one time a candidate for county sheriff.

A member of Cassia Lodge, F. and A. M., Ardmore; Philadelphia Consistory and Lulu Temple, Mr. Slaw is survived by a daughter, Helen, and two sons, Benjamin F., Jr., and Charles F. Slaw, all of Bala-Cynwyd.

Joseph D. Israel

The funeral of Joseph D. Israel, 68, was held Wednesday morning from his late residence, 135 Rolling road, Bala-Cynwyd, with interment in Westminster Cemetery.

Mr. Israel, who died suddenly Monday, was manager of the Philadelphia Electric Company central district and the company's oldest employee in point of actual service, with 49 years.

A graduate in electrical-mechanical engineering from the University of Pennsylvania, he was a former president of the Employees' and Athletic Associations of the electric company and a member of the Franklin Institute, Chestnut Street Association, American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the Engineers' Club.

He is survived by his widow, the former Miss Mary Looby, and a daughter, Mrs. Charles J. McIntyre.

Mr. Simons was president of the William Amer Co., Philadelphia, and formerly was its secretary-treasurer, president of the Morocco Manufacturers' National Association, and during the World War chairman of the allocation committee of the Tanners' Council of America.

He was an elder in the church, member of the Presbyterian Social Union, Manufacturers and Bankers' Club, Penn A. C., Philadelphia Board of Trade, and the Philadelphia and United States Chambers of Commerce.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Amelia Alexander Simons, a son, Laird Hardcastle, Jr., and a daughter, Eretta Andrews Simons, who, on June 8, graduated, cum laude in chemistry, from Bryn Mawr College.

Jessie Nelson Braley

Miss Jessie Nelson Braley, for twenty-two years one of the headmistresses of The Holman School, Ardmore, died on June 11. Miss Braley was born in New Bedford, Massachusetts, was a graduate of Wellesley College, and took post-graduate work at Columbia. In the Holman School, she was head of the English Department and the business executive.

The funeral service was held at her late residence and conducted by Rev. Frederick R. Griffin, minister of the First Unitarian Church of Philadelphia, who said of her "Miss Braley was a strong woman, strong in her life purposes, strong in her convictions and strong in character. She chose and through many years, followed an exalted profession. To her teaching she brought enthusiasm, fine judgment, sympathy and skill. She knew how to teach because she was much less interested in imparting knowledge than in securing the release of talents and energies in her pupils."

She is survived by two sisters, Elizabeth W. Braley, headmistress at the school, and Anna Braley.

number and bore of an engine's cylinders.

When we-all-of-us talk about our Fourth of July celebration to the friends of other places, and as we-all-of-us tell of the 15,000 spectators who assemble on our fine field to see our shows, we-all-of-us never fail to say that everybody in Narberth comes across handsomely with a dollar or two for the cost. Also we-all-of-us proudly say that they pay as soon as asked, no coaxing or cajoling, no enervating delay, and that quite the nicest part of it all is the fact that our people forget whatever differences they might have in other things and subscribe wholeheartedly to this one annual affair in which there is such impressive unanimity.

It is good indeed that this is all so and we-all-of-us must be alert to maintain that happy and highly creditable status by our very prompt response to the call for cash which the committee has now announced.

Send what you will to Carl B. Metzger, Jr., at the bank, one or two dollars, please, and let us try to make the Honor Roll in next week's Our Town as formidable a list as our interest and circumstances can possibly afford.

Proud of Safety Record

Railroads of the United States have every reason to be justly proud of the record established in the year 1935—not one passenger fatality resulted from a collision or derailment, says the Indianapolis Star. Compare this record with that of all other passenger carriers and it becomes the more noteworthy. Compare it with the sad record of automobile accidents in which a new high of more than 36,000 deaths was charged in 1935 and the strength of one argument in favor of travel by train is apparent.

Scouts Are Upholding Traditions and Ideals

The following official quotation, from the U. S. House of Representatives Committee on Education, reporting on bill before the House for the Federal Incorporation of The Boy Scouts of America, in 1910, clearly states that the purpose of the movement is to produce a civic enthusiasm for service in a nation that means to live at peace with all the world.

"The purpose of the Boy Scouts of America is just this: To inflame the civic temper; to develop the virile virtues."

"If you are going to do anything for the average man you have got to begin before he is a man. The chance of success lies in working with the boy, not the man."—Theodore Roosevelt.

"Save a man, you save one person; save a boy and you save a whole multiplication table."—John Wanamaker.

"The purpose of the Boy Scouts of America is to utilize the boy's leisure time under competent and sympathetic leadership, to popularize a large number of outdoor games and occupations of various sorts in which each boy can have a full share, and to provide the incentive that will attract and hold the boys by means of a compact, well-organized national body. It is the purpose to supplement all existing educational advantages and not to replace any of them."

Fourth Celebrations Deadlier Than War of Revolution

More American lives were lost celebrating our independence than were lost in acquiring it in the Revolutionary War. So declares the Bureau of Fire Prevention of the Montgomery County Firemen's Association, in a statement advocating a super-safe and sane Fourth of July. From 1900 to 1930, fireworks caused 4290 direct deaths and 96,000 injuries. The Revolution, so reads the statement, killed 4,044 patriots and injured 6,004.

What lends point to this comparison is the fact that residents of the community can help—not only by depriving youngsters of fireworks, but also by donating their dollar or so to help the community celebration, which, after all, the young and old enjoy far more, anyway.

That "harmless" fireworks are not any too harmless, is shown by the 1935 record: sparklers, 90 casualties (dead and wounded); "cherry bums," 298; torpedoes, 175; and cannon crackers, 142.

The annual fair and carnival given by the Italian colonies of the Main Line for the benefit of the Bryn Mawr Hospital, will be held on the Devon Horse Show grounds, June 19, 20 and 21.

Shaw, of Devon, is leading, but she is being closely pressed by a number of girls, among them being Christine Simone, Bryn Mawr; Julia Mena, Wayne; Helen Calderoni, Ardmore; Anna Faggioli, Ardmore; Polly Arena, Wayne; Florence Civitella, Wayne; Perina Tacconelli, Bryn Mawr; and Rose D'Antonio, Wayne.

Any girl along the Main Line is eligible to enter the contest, and there is plenty of time for new entrants to overtake the leaders. Application blanks can be secured from any committee member.

Locust Pest May be Fought With Netting

Protection of trees, flowers and other young plants from the ravages of 17-year locusts, which made their appearance in this section this week, may be accomplished by covering them with netting of cheesecloth, according to J. C. Kenealy, acting tree warden of the Shade Tree Commission of Lower Merion Township.

Since sprays, to be effective, would have to be applied every day during the emergency period, they are not regarded as practical remedies. However, delaying pruning operations until after the eggs have been deposited and then destroying the pruned wood in which the eggs have been laid, is a well-recognized practice. Kenealy said in a statement issued this week, which follows in part:

"During the past week and for the next few weeks to come the Main Line will play host to another infestation of insects known as the periodical Cicada, commonly called the 'Seventeen-Year Locust.'"

"The damage will be most noticeable in forests where they have not been disturbed since 1919 and before. Damage will also be very noticeable in lawns where the insects emerge from the soil."

"The seventeen-year locust does not appear to have any definite host which it attacks. Any tree is susceptible, although the oak and cherry, apple, pear or peach as a rule are most severely damaged. On cultivated trees, such as fruit trees, the damage will be chiefly along infested woodland, where land that had previously been infested has been cleared of natural growth since 1919 and set to fruits."

Janet Gaynor at the Ardmore

The star of the immortal "Seventh Heaven," Janet Gaynor, and the sensation of "Magnificent Obsession," Robert Taylor, have joined hands to bring to the screen one of the most stirring modern romances in their latest picture, "Small Town Girl," showing at the Ardmore Theatre today, tomorrow, Monday and Tuesday.

Miss Gaynor was never more lovely in her successful career than she is in the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production. For the first time, she is allowed to dress up—and in this she reveals a new Janet Gaynor. With the sensation of the screen season, the dashing Robert Taylor, as her costar, a perfect screen team is formed.

Watering the Garden

Plants need a constant and generous supply of water to protect them against summer heat.

A plant uses moisture in the same way as a tree. The water is drawn in through the roots... the food it contains is absorbed by the plant... and it finally evaporates from the leaves in a cooling process.

However, cultivated plants are at a disadvantage during hot weather... their roots do not penetrate deep enough into the ground to reach the moisture that lies under the parched top soil. They are not protected by the shade of trees. So in hot, dry spells garden plants must be supplied with extra water.

The evening is the best time for watering. Plants, watered during the heat of the day run the risk of being scorched. This is due to the fact that a drop of water will act as a powerful lens, magnifying the rays of the sun to a point where the leaf may be burned.

Sprinkling water over the leaves washes away the dust and cleanses the tiny pores. And as this water soaks into the ground it reaches the thirsty root fibers.

Narberth May Slash Twilight Schedule

Lack of Support May Force
Elimination of One
Midweek Game

BYRNE HURLS SHUTOUT

While Narberth Baseball Club was warming up last Sunday before trouncing Coatesville, 9-0 in the Main Line League here, President Raymond A. Cabrey announced that, "Unless we get a better response from the rooters we may have less twilight baseball played by our team this season. So far the twilight games have proved a terrible disappointment from a crowd standpoint, in spite of the fact that we have had several thrilling battles," he said.

According to Prexy Cabrey and Secretary-Treasurer Charles Harnden, the borough club is thinking seriously of beginning a one-twilight-game-a-week schedule. Whether the new program will go into effect depends of how the spectators support their representatives.

It's Up to Fans

"Our team came out of the red last season," explained Cabrey, "and we had hopes that this year would be a big success. But with every twilight game played we have lost a lot of money. Twilight ball at best is not a paying proposition here, but we have reached a point where we feel that we can't continue to play before small crowds. It will be impossible to meet expenses. We have no kick on Saturday and Sunday games, although the crowds haven't been up to the average of other years."

A change was made from Monday and Wednesday twilight ball to Tuesday and Thursday this season. If the fans show no added interest in the near future it is very likely that the defending Main Line League champions will confine their after-supper performances to Thursday.

Narberth was scheduled to play at Berwyn last Saturday, but like two other games, the tilt was rained out. Brookline was surprised by Downingtown, yielding 2-1 for its first defeat of the season.

Gene Davis' club entered a battle, practice at the expense of P. H. P. and 'ards' Coatesville. No less than 14 hits rattled off the winners' batsmen as Buddy Walker led the attack with a double and triple.

Just a Romp

The Townsman scored three runs enough to win, in the first inning added four in the third, then scored in single fashion in the fifth and eighth frames.

Tommy Byrne, Phoenixville High star who lost a 1-0 decision to the locals while pitching for the Twilighters two weeks ago, made his league debut for the Davis array. He gave a tidy performance, limiting Coatesville to six hits, fanning five and walking one. Byrne also showed a hitting tendency, connecting for a double and one-bagger.

Hamer Offers Surcease to Warm and Thirsty

Harry H. Hamer, the only beer distributor on the Main Line east of Ardmore, this week announced a service that will be a boon to residents who await the arrival of summer with trepidation.

Ice cold beer may either be called for at Hamer's Delicatessen, at 238 Haverford avenue, Narberth, or will be delivered in this area for a nominal charge.

Mr. Hamer also will make deliveries of the famous Reading Terminal ice cream, two-hour packed in dry ice.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gallen, of Stradone road, gave a dance at the Women's Club of Bala-Cynwyd last Wednesday in honor of their daughters, Miss Marie Gallen and Miss Gertrude Gallen, who graduated last week from the Villa Marie Academy.

-SPORTLETS-

Narberth playground and last Friday evening were the final site and time for the Haverford Township High-Norristown Suburban championship playoff game. But it made up for all its postponements, etc., in action. With the Brookliners leading 6 to 1, Norristown pushed across five runs and knotted the score in the seventh. In the extra inning Coach Allie Cornog's boys staged a rally for two more, while Norristown could make but one. Final score: Haverford T. H. S., 8 runs, 6 hits, 4 errors; Norristown, 7 runs, 11 hits, 7 errors. It's Haverford's first championship in 10 years of play.

Following the game there was a long line of traffic on Windsor avenue, Wynnewood avenue and Wynnewood road waiting to get to Lancaster avenue and home, the reason being that everyone is yellow-and-red light conscious since Magistrate Lowmes started to impose fines.

Cynwyd's Club's 5 to 1 victory over Merion C. C. gives the former a one-point lead over the Philadelphia Cricket Club in Division A as the Men's Interclub round robin tennis series approaches its close this Sunday. Merion's B team, however, defeated Cynwyd B, 4-2. In the "A" matches, Harold Custer and Ralph DeMott, and Gordon Straum and Dr. Herbert Fischer won in doubles, while singles winners were H. H. Lott, Jr., John Custer and Harold Lane. Norman Bremall, Cynwyd, lost to Thomas Edgeway, Jr., Merion.
